THE BOSTON FIRE

did not kill

PRESIDENT GRANT,

Neither did it destroy the most appropriate

SEWING MACHINE ATTACHMENT

ever invented. This simple little machine, which is no less than

winds the thread on a bobbin without the use of a person's hands as even as thread is wound on a spool by the manufacturers This as every lady knows, is a very important thing in order to get an even tension and it is very hard to do without these machines, which not only save an abundance of time but wind two third more thread on a bobbin The Attachment is confined to the machine in the same place as the old one and the price is within the reach of all Can be seen in operation at

NO 28 MAIN STREET.

The Application of Steam Power to Dentistry

And in making this announcement I desire also to put upon record as a matter of fact that I am the first operator in the world who has put it into practical use steam power in dentistry For the past two months I have used it daily in every operation I have performed and even excessively and my patients are delighted and charmed with the ease and absolute perfection with which it performs its labor One of the many who have had operations performed by its aid there has never been one not a single one who has expressed a preference for the old hand methods but upon the contrary each one has been marked and profuse in their praise of this the latest application of steam power Very much might be said in its commendation but the limits of an advertisement forbid suffice it to say realizing the facts fully that were I to recommend anything in my practice which did not meet the approbation of my patients, it would be absolutely fatal to me, yet so thoroughly does this meet the wishes of all my patients, as well as myself that I feel warranted in giving it a hearty and emphatic endorsement as the nearest approach to perfection which can possibly be imagined The superiority of its work is beyond all comparison Having understood that a certain interested party in this city is crying out danger from explosion to his patients I desire to call attention to the following card from Mr Sullivan prefacing it with the remark that I never desire to use over thirty pounds steam pressure which every patient can see by the gauge for themselves. After reading this card, let all such parties forever hold their peace. Since it will be seen that the boiler has been constructed to carry 500—five hundred—pounds pressure per square inch whereas, I use but 30—thirty

J FREDERICK BABCOOK, D D S

Dentist and Practitioner of Oral Surgery, Nos 2, 3, 4 5 and 6 Kenduskeag Block Bangor, Me.

CARD.

This is to certify that I, Daniel Sullivan of Bangor, Steam Boiler Manufacturer have just completed to the order of Dr J F Babcock, one of my patent upright Tubular Steam Boilers made with the special intent and purpose of having it so exceedingly safe and strong as to stand under ordinary every day usage if required 500 pounds pressure per square inch and I hereby guarantee that its strength is such as to safely stand a much greater pressure, if necessary, than the said 500 pounds per square inch.

"PARTY CRITICISM."

Some Republican organs object to such criticism of occasional acts of the President and Congress, as are at times indulged in by Republican newspapers like the Boston Advertiser, or by Republican statesmen like Geo. William Curtis. It is urged by these organs that inasmuch as fault-finding without stint or reason is the constant business of the leaders of the Democratic opposition, that the Republicans ought not to strengthen the enemy's hand by indulging in any criticism on their own account. We dissent from this position most decidedly.—Lewiston Journal.

While we do not know that the term "organ" can be applied with more force to any other newspaper than to the journal edited by the Governor-elect and recent standard-bearer of the Republican party of this State, we choose to accept a portion of the above criticism as intended for our benefit; as we do not remember that any other Maine paper has particularly referred to the course of Mr. Curtis. It is probable that we object quite as sincerely as the Journal to the championship of party "through thick and thin" and whether right or wrong; and if to do so constitutes an "organ" we may be counted out. But while we do not think that the action of party leaders should be permitted to escape just criticism, we do not believe that captious, inconsistent and untimely fault-finding should be tacitly indorsed because it proceeds from a respectable source.

In our remarks upon certain articles by Mr. Curtis, we took occasion to express our very high appreciation of the character and ability of that gentleman, and our sentiment was that of regret that so estimable a journalist should allow his writings to become tinged with the appearance of pique. Perhaps the editors of Harper's Weekly and the Lewiston Journal regard the reform of the civil service as something which should be accomplished by a single stroke of the Executive pen; but to us it seems one of the most serious and difficult problems ever grappled with by a President. By abandoning all effort because complete success was not immediately attained, we thought and still think, that Mr. Curtis seriously damaged the cause which he has at heart, and disappointed the expectations of his friends. It can be readily understood that some of the appointments made were extremely distasteful to the chairman of the civil service commission, but he was the advance guard of a movement which had gained and was still gaining ground, and many people thought that he should have stood by his colors in spite of discouragement. He chose to retire, however, and since his place has been filled by Dorman B. Eaton, one of the most able and fearless champions of reform, the constant publication of articles belittling the work of the commission and questioning the sincerity of the President, has not seemed to us entirely graceful on the part of the ex commissioner. The Journal may differ with us on this point, as every "organ" is entitled to its own opinion upon matters of taste.

If the President and Harper's Weekly are not to enjoy entire immunity from criticism, neither do we regard it as unwarrantable presumption for other newspapers to question the infallibility and object to the inconsistency of so respectable a journal as the Boston Advertiser. Because we like the general tone of that paper, it does not follow that we should fail to notice how completely it "lost its head" during the recent canvass, when it feared that General Butler—the object of its special dislike—might secure the Republican nomination. We sympathized with that paper in the desire for Butler's defeat; but we failed to admire its consistency, when in one breath it asserted that through the complaisance of his colleagues Butler had installed his friends in the majority of Federal offices in the State, and in the next vehemently charged that the natural preference of these protégés was a proof of the President's interference in State politics. In its spasm of apprehension the Advertiser used some very vigorous language and said some very good things about the influence of Federal officials in local politics; but we were among the number of those who could not see that this element was more reprehensible when employed in behalf of Gen. Butler than in other campaigns, when the Advertiser uttered no such fiery rebuke. To be sure, the former condoning of an offence does not prohibit the denouncing of its repetition, but the circumstances favored the impression that the Advertiser was much more afraid that Butler might be nominated than it was anxious for the abolition of usages against which it had hitherto failed to protest. And as it was generally believed that its charges of Presidential interference were entirely unjust, the "Republican organs"—as the Journal styles them—very generally disapproved of its unaccustomed recklessness, while the "organs" of the Democratic party highly approved and extensively quoted its remarks. The Journal may, therefore, set us down as one "organ" which proposes to have and to express opinions, even when they fail to coincide with those of the Boston Advertiser.

When the Journal proceeds to say that it "looks with satisfaction upon Republican newspapers and leaders who kindly criticise whatever they regard as wrong within the party circle," we are pleased to welcome it to our platform. A sense of duty which seemed no less imperative to us at the time because it were subsequently overruled, constrained us during the late canvass to criticise matters within the party somewhat freely. This did not prevent us from a cordial acquiescence in the decision of a large majority of our party friends, and we do not think it lessened our influence in behalf of Republican principles. The words of the Journal convey an assurance that our motives were appreciated even by those who did not coincide with our views; and this is an encouragement to us to say what we think, whether of measures, of men, or of newspapers, upon all occasions which may seem proper.

We think the Portland Press has failed to exercise its usual care in remarking that the proposed commission to inquire into the liquor traffic in this country will be useless except to "give employment at a high salary to three or four men," etc. The bills presented in Congress expressly provide that the Commissioners are to serve without pay, and we cannot doubt that an examination of this subject by an able board, with reference to the relations of the liquor traffic to business, morals, crime, health and the general welfare of the public, would be worth much more than the amount required for defraying its expenses. While Congress is constantly empowering committees to send for persons and papers on matters of comparatively trivial consequence, there would seem to be no impropriety in seeking to investigate a subject of such vital importance to the safety, order and happiness of the people.

All the reports concur in praising the vigorous effort of Hon. Eugene Hale to prevent the adoption of the Hurlburt substitute for the salary bill, which really provides an increase of $500 each over the average of pay and allowances under the old system. On rising to close the debate an attempt was made to drown his voice, but he proceeded, amid much confusion, to declare that the substitute was no proper response to the demand of the country for the substantial repeal of the law of last Congress. He characterized it as an evasion of the public voice, and stated that if the substitute was adopted, a proposition involving a clean, straightforward, substantial repeal would be introduced on the first Monday the House would be in session, and he believed it would pass the House and satisfy an indignant country. The Tribune's correspondent says:

Mr. Hale of Maine, then rose to claim his hour to close the debate, as he had a right to do, having reported the original bill. The five hundred dollar men tried to put him down, first by clamor and then by points of order, and failed in both. He faced the storm with a pluck that won him many friends, and finally forced the House to listen to a vigorous denunciation of the Hurlburt scheme.

RAILROADS EASTWARD.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

In your paper a few days since "A. W. P." writes relating to the Shore Line Railroad at Calais and of a railroad bridge at Bucksport. To prevent the building of this bridge Bangor is asked to build a railroad to Ellsworth, or to invest not less than $300,000 therein. This is the disease and the remedy. Now, how does the case stand? From Calais to Bucksport is about one hundred and five miles; it will cost $25,000 per mile to build a railroad of that length and upon that route, $2,625,000. To build a bridge at Bucksport, to connect with a railroad on the west side of the river, will cost about $500,000. The chances are more than even that the bridge would have to be built high enough for the largest vessels to pass under. In my estimates of cost per mile for building railroads, I mean of the common gauge; for it is idle to talk of building a connecting railroad of a different gauge than the one with which it connects.

What has Bangor to gain by building a railroad to Ellsworth? Does it expect business? The business of the towns between Ellsworth and Calais, is lumbering and ship-building. They do their business and buy their goods where they sell their lumber and run their vessels, and return freights are merely nominal, as their vessels would return empty—were it not for the goods and merchandise they take back with them. Does any one suppose that this business, long and cheaply established, is to be diverted from its natural channels, by this expenditure of $3,000,000,—or any other sum? By a railroad from Bangor to Ellsworth, Bangor will simply facilitate travel without business; for whose benefit it is not for me to say. What then shall Bangor do to promote her growth in population, business and wealth? I answer, first:— Aid the Bay & River Railroad Company, moderately, to build its road Bangor. People along the line of this road do not want to go to Bucksport; they have no business there. They want to come to Bangor, for here they have a large and constantly growing business. Build this road and a bridge at Bucksport will cease even to be talked about.

I come now to my second proposition, which is, that Bangor shall aid the St. Croix & Penobscot Railroad to extend westward to the E. & N. A. Railway, and I ask that this proposition be allowed to rest on its own merits. The St. Croix & Penobscot Railroad Company have a charter for a road from Calais, up the valley of the west branch of the St. Croix to its source, thence from the valley of the Passadumkeag Branch of the Penobscot river, to connect with the E. & N. A. Railway or by an independent line to Bangor. The distance between Bangor and Calais by this route is about 92 miles; by way of Ellsworth to Calais, about 122 miles. Of this road 22 miles is built to Princeton, thence to Grand Lake tannery. The route for 12 miles more has been surveyed and efforts will be made to build it at an early day, leaving a distance of about 45 miles to be built to connect with the E. & N. A. Railway. Fifteen miles of this distance is upon the St. Croix waters, the remaining thirty miles upon the Passadumkeag waters. Adjacent to this are nearly twenty townships of land, upon which are numerous and abundant water powers, some of which are unsurpassed, by Lewiston or Lowell or Lawrence, with vast quantities of original growth of hard woods and other coarse woods, and more hemlock, probably, than there is in the whole county of Aroostook. These great sources of wealth now lie dormant, awaiting manufacture, and are destined for Bangor in the future, either for a market or for shipment. With all these great resources for way business and the usual through business and travel which all railroads running in the right direction draw towards them, in favor of the St. Croix & Penobscot road, which of these roads is it for the interest of Bangor to aid? In my judgment, the same amount of money which Bangor would be obliged to furnish the road to Ellsworth, about $300,000, would insure the extension of the St. Croix & Penobscot Railroad to the E. & N. A. Railway line. I think I am quite sure in saying that the merchants of Calais prefer this route west if it can be built, and will do all in their power to aid of it. Will Bangor do as much? I speak as to wise men.

PENOBSCOT.

The following editorial extract from this week's issue of the Piscataquis Observer shows how the "dignified journalism" of one our contemporaries strikes the mind of disinterested observers:

The erudite D. D. who dispenses euphony and grammatical concord through the medium of the Northern Border, and who presumes to criticise the orthography, etymology, syntax and prosody of the President's Message, has descended to the level of the pot house, and has nearly annihilated his adversaries of the WHIG & COURIER, by calling them "chaw-dog critics." Not content with this most flagitious punishment, he tortures those moribund editors of THE WHIG by quoting Latin phrases from a patent shirt advertisement. THE WHIG was issued on Monday as usual; but it is difficult to tell how long it can stand this intellectual bombardment. The Commercial, which espoused the cause of the Divinity—the D. D. we mean—was put hors du combat at the first charge; leaving to the redoubtable Doctor the gratifying task of "chawing up" all the small "boys" who congregate about the WHIG office. This gastronomic feat it is expected will be performed in the course of another week.

General Butler has again proved the evil genius of the House, by rallying its worst impulses to defeat a practical repeal of the salary bill. The votes and speeches early in the session indicated plainly that enough members were convinced of the danger of trifling with this matter, to insure a majority for an honorable measure of repeal; but the Essex member seized his opportunity when the personalities of debate had demoralized the House, to lash his weak-kneed followers into the traces he had prepared, securing strength enough to prevent a recorded vote and to carry the Hurlbut-Butler subterfuge. It is evident that the House must squelch Butler and his salary bill together.

THE SPANISH REPUBLIC. Washington specials state that a despatch received by the Government, Wednesday, from Minister Sickles announces the conciliation of conflicting interests in the Spanish Cortes and the firm establishment of the Castelar Government. The conciliation was effected through compromises between the diverse elements of the Republican members of the Cortes. The immediate results of these compromises will be the establishment of a strong Federal Government, based upon true Republican principles. This information is believed to show that the result of the negotiations regarding the Virginius affair has been to strengthen rather than weaken Republicanism in Spain.

The bombardment of Cartagena continued all day Thursday. There was a terrible magazine explosion within the Insurgent lines. Gen. Domoniquez offers pardon to all who shall surrender. The Insurgents are able still to obtain provisions, but their ammunition is failing.

TERRIFIC HAIL STORM. One of the most terrific hail storms ever witnessed in that vicinity accompanied by heavy wind, rain and lightning passed over Nashville, Tenn., at half-past 2 Thursday afternoon. At 2 P. M. the barometer at the Signal Office commenced falling and in a few minutes had fallen one-half an inch. For ten minutes the wind blew 26 miles an hour which was followed suddenly by a dead calm. The rainfall in ten minutes was one-half inch and the streets were flooded. The hail stones were rough and of peculiar shape, weighing from 2 to 3 ounces.

The jury in the case of Alonzo E. Kimball formerly of Boston, indicted with Mrs. Metzler for causing the death of Ida W. Vail, by abortion in Jersey City, disagreed and were discharged. The jury stood 10 for conviction and 2 for acquittal.

Geo. A. Christian, late clerk in the Surgeon General's office, and Charles Green, both convicted of digging up dead bodies and selling them, were on Monday each sentenced in Washington to one year's imprisonment and a fine of $1,000.

ORGANS!
The acknowledged superiority of these instruments by the leading artists of this country and Europe, and their rapid increase in popularity wherever introduced, with our own large experience in all the popular and unpopular instruments of the day, has proved these the most durable, and by far the most desirable.
Having secured the agency for the State, we can give wholesale or retail customers styles that cannot fail to suit one and all, at prices below competition, and less than can be bought at the Factory.
Every Instrument sold by us is fully warranted.
Old Pianos, taken in Exchange and illustrated catalogues sent free on application.

FROM PORTLAND.

A YOUNG SWINDLER.

PORTLAND, Dec. 19.

A boy 11 years old, named William Snell, belonging in Hingham, Mass, but who has been at work for J C Lovering, bookseller, on Washington street, Boston, was arrested [illegible] He had collected some money and ran away.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS

First Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.

The chair announced that since overruling the point of order on the resolution to adjourn made by Mr Edmunds yesterday, he had examined the precedent and came to the conclusion that the ruling against the Senator from Vermont was erroneous. The proceedings therefore on that resolution under the ruling were void, and the resolution was now on the table subject to the disposition of the Senate.

Mr Sumner presented a petition from citizens of New York for a general disarmament of the Federal forces and the adoption of a system to settle all difficulties by arbitration.

Mr Anthony from the Committee on Printing reported back the bill relative to printing public documents. He hoped the bill would be passed now. Unless some means could be adopted for the transportation of these documents, it would be useless to print them for public distribution.

Mr Sargent said that the cost of printing the Agricultural Reports would be $168,000, and it would cost Senators and Members [illegible] to send out all public documents.

Mr Stevenson was in favor of restoring the franking privilege, with some restrictions.

Mr [illegible]man offered an amendment for billing the printing of all public documents for public distribution, but not prohibiting the [illegible]ing such documents, which was [illegible] the bill passed.

Mr Wright from the Civil Service Committee reported back the House bill in relation to [illegible] Representatives and Delegates, with amendments, and recommended the passage of the bill as amended. He gave notice that he would call up the bill Wednesday after the expiration of the morning hour. The morning hour having expired, the chair announced that the resolution reported by the Finance Committee was in order.

Mr Lewis of Va., hoped that it would be laid aside and that the Senate would take up the resolution for adjournment.

Mr Bayard thought a holiday recess would give Senators and Members time for consultation with their constituents on the Bankrupt bill.

Mr Chandler hoped that if the bankrupt law was not passed, at least the old one would be rescinded.

Messrs Boreman, Morrill of Me., Ferry of Conn., Tipton, Windom and Logan, each made a few remarks upon the subject of adjournment.

After some further discussion of the holiday adjournment, the resolution as passed by the House was concurred in, yeas 32, nays 27. The vote stood as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Alcorn, Bayard, Bogy, Boreman, Boutwell, Cameron, Clayton, Conover, Cooper, Davis, Dennis, Fenton, Ferry of Ct., Goldthwaite, Gordon, Hamilton of Md., Hamilton of Texas, Ingalls, Johnson, Kelley, Lewis, McCreery, Merriman, Norwood, Ransom, Robertson, Saulsbury, Schurz, Stockton, Tipton, Ransom and Windom—32.

Nays—Messrs Allison, Ames, Brownlow, Buckingham, Carpenter, Chandler, Conkling, Cragin, Crozier, Ferry of Mich, Gilbert, Hamlin, Hitchcock, Howe, Logan, Mitchell, Morrill of Me., Morrill of Vt., Morton, Oglesby, Pratt, Sargent, Scott, Sherman, Spencer, Sumner and West—27.

The discussion of the repeal of the Bankrupt law was continued for a short time, after which the Senate went into Executive session and adjourned until January 5th.

HOUSE.

Mr Frye, of Maine, offered a resolution in reference to the comparative cost of the present mode of printing the debates in Congress and the old method. Referred to Committee on Printing.

Mr Butler, of Mass, from the Judiciary Committee, offered a resolution authorizing that committee to send a sub committee to New Orleans and take testimony in the matter of impeachment of Judge Durell, of New Orleans. After explaining the reason for making the request the resolution was adopted.

Mr Butler, of Mass, called up the supplementary Civil Rights bill and proposed to limit the debate to two hours.

Mr Beck, of Kentucky, appealed for a longer time and said the Democratic side would not propose dilatory motions if a fair discussion was allowed, but certainly would in a contrary event.

Mr Stevens, of Georgia, made a similar appeal. He said he desired to address the House on the bill but was not in a condition physically or otherwise to do so to-day.

Mr Butler remarked that the Amnesty and Civil Rights bill were linked together in the minds of Republicans. The Amnesty bill passed the House without objection, the white man had his rights, now it was time for the black man to have his rights.

After considerable colloquy it was agreed that the discussion should go on all day in 15 minute speeches, and on the first and second days after the reassembling of the House, the previous question to be considered in operation at 4 o'clock the second day. The business of the morning hour was then proceeded with—the calling of committees for reports of private character.

After the call Mr. Butler, of Mass., opened the debate on the supplementary Civil Rights bill. He said that the bill proposed to give to whomsoever rights were taken away the means of over riding hostile State legislation and punish the man who takes her rights from him. That was the whole of it, who could vote against that?

Mr. Beck, of Ky, opposed the bill and Mr [illegible] advocated it.

Mr Coburn, of Ind, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a resolution, requesting that the President convene a court of enquiry whose duty should be to investigate all charges against Brigadier General O. O. Howard, contained in the communication to the Secretary of War.

After the discussion the whole matter was recommitted.

NEW YORK CITY.

EX-MAYOR HALL TO BE TRIED.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. Attorney-General Barlow informs Ex-Mayor Hall that his new trial on the "Ring" indictment is set down for Dec 22d. At his last trial the jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

THE GENET TRIAL.

In the Genet trial the summing up for the prosecution was concluded, after which the judge charged the jury who retired to deliberate.

VERDICT "GUILTY."

In the afternoon the jury returned to the court after being out over two hours. Judge Daniels was accompanied into court by Judge Brady and the room was crammed to suffocation. The foreman announced that that they had found a verdict of "guilty." Judge Daniels directed the verdict be entered, "guilty of the charge contained in the indictment," which is that of fraud about the same as that in the Tweed case. Judge Daniels on motion of counsel for defence granted a stay of sentence until Monday to give time for preparing a bill of exceptions. Mr Beach applied to the court to take bail for the prisoner's appearance, knowing the disposition of the case, but the District-Attorney objecting he was given in custody of the sheriff.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE FIRE.

The damage by fire in the custom house last night will not exceed $1,000. It was caused by mice knawing matches in a drawer.

FROM BOSTON.

THE MISSING FISHERMEN.

BOSTON, Dec. 19. Patrick O'Neal and Frank Miller, two of the crew of the schooner Tubal Cain, of Gloucester, who left that vessel to visit their trawls, Oct. 14, and were lost in the fog and supposed to have perished, have been heard from at London. They were six days and nights in their dory without anything to eat or drink except one night when they caught a little rain in their clothing. On the seventh morning they were picked up nearly dead by a Norwegian brig, and kindly cared for.

WORK SUSPENDED.

Orders were received from Boston to cease all extra work at Charleston Navy Yard and to resume the usual working hours.

The Ville du Havre!

THE CAPTAIN'S OFFICIAL REPORT!

SUNK IN TWELVE MINUTES!

Boats Crippled by Falling Masts!

HEROISM OF THE WOMEN!

CAPTAIN SURMONT'S REPORT.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. Captain Surmont, in his official report to the Company, of the loss of the Ville du Havre, says that immediately upon collision the water rushed in so quickly, there was not time to close the door of the bulkhead which separated the engine from the boilers, besides, the bulkhead of the coal bunkers having been forced into the engines, the water poured in that way into the boilers. I ordered the second officer to place himself at the places of disembarkation, and desired him to supervise that operation.

THE LOWERING OF BOATS

then commenced. After No 6 was lowered, the main mast gave way, carrying with it the mizzen mast, which fell on the deck, killing many persons who were engaged in putting No. 4 afloat. The main-mast crushed boat No 6 and the persons therein. The lowering of the boats continued and was attended with great difficulty, owing to the confusion caused by the fall of the two masts. Time pressed. The ship was sinking. The boat No 7 of the second officer, which I ordered afloat, was outside, but it could not heave to, the tackle fall being engaged. Boat No 2 (mine) was not outside the catheads, when at this moment the Ville du Havre sank. As to boat No 4, the men who were in her, seeing all chance of floating gone, as the vessel was sinking, cut the rigging in order to have it float when the vessel would disappear. By the ill luck which attended us the boat was thrown with such violence against the lowest part of the mizzen mast, that it was smashed.

THEN WE WERE ALL AFLOAT.

It was the final moment when every one seized a spar or rope as it offered as the ship sank. A plank which I found at hand enabled me to keep afloat for about twenty minutes, when I was picked up by boat No. 1. The second officer, who had returned to his boat, disappeared at the same time as myself, and despite the short distance between us, we heard no more of each other, and it was was not until the third visit of the boat No 4 that he was saved. That was about an hour after the sinking of the vessel. We were taken on board the British ship Loch Earn, Captain Robertson.

The whale boat returned to the work of the rescue. The English ship put her boats afloat. They were of great service, for with our two boats alone we would certainly not have saved so many persons.

THE SUDDEN CALAMITY—FORTITUDE OF THE LADIES.

After alluding to the loss of several officers, the Captain says: "I estimate that there was not more than 12 minutes between the collision and the sinking of the ship. Capt. Robertson, who says he saw me, says 10 minutes, others say 15, but there are only two or three minutes in question. I must say that in that short interval the passengers were examples of coolness, calmness and resignation and at the dreadful time of this lamentable occurrence, when 355 persons were justly alarmed at the thought of certain death at every moment and the only hope of safety was disappearing, the women were the first to give example.

THE RESCUED.

The passengers rescued undoubtedly owe their safety to that fortitude which they did not lose for a single moment, and many others would have been saved also, if the cold of the water had not paralyzed their limbs. I have the satisfaction since the wreck of hearing by questioning the survivors of the crew, that every one was at his post; that each did his duty, and that all went down with the vessel, and were picked up from the sea.

HE BLAMES THE LOCH EARN.

The loss of the unhappy officer who commanded the watch at the moment of the collision, renders me unable to give an exact account of the occurrence before taking command myself, but I can declare the Loch Earn, to which I showed my ship's side, and which consequently had nothing to fear from me, struck directly against my vessel at the risk of smashing herself, as well, when by a slight stroke of the helm upwards, for it was almost so already, this terrible collision might have been averted.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

Leaving the question of the collision aside, I readily render to Capt. Robertson, his officers and crew, the gratitude that we all owe them for the good care taken of each of us. On going aboard everything was placed at our command. The ladies were the objects of special attention. Capt Surmont then describes how they were subsequently transported to the American ship Tri Mountain.

WASHINGTON.

GEN. HOWARD'S CASE.

NEW YORK, Dec 19. A Washington special says that the House military committee, before whom Gen Howard again appeared yesterday, have come to the decision that the law of limitation runs upon all the alleged offenses, and that Gen Howard cannot now be tried by court martial except by a special act of Congress. In this respect the conclusions of the committee agree with the opinion of the Attorney-General and the decisions of the War Department. The committee have still to decide whether they will investigate the case on their account. Before determining they will make a careful investigation of all the evidence that is on record.

AFTER THE ABSENTEES.

Secretary Delano has issued an order declaring that any Territorial or other officers absent from the post of duty after January 1st, 1874, without special permission, will be considered as having resigned. The order is rendered imperatively necessary by the frequent absence of officers from posts of duty.

THE AMENDMENTS TO THE SALARY BILL

The amendments reported from the Committee on Civil Service and Retrenchment to the House salary bill are in the nature of a substitute as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., That so much of the acts of March 3d, 1873, as provides for the increase of the compensation of members of Congress and the several officers and employes of either House of Congress, or both, be and the same are hereby repealed and the salaries and compensations of all said persons shall be as fixed by the laws in force at the time of the passage of said act.

Section 2d, That compensation of the several heads of departments shall be each $8,000 per annum.

Section 3d, That the Secretary of the Treasury will be required to cover into the treasury all sums that may remain undrawn or which have been received as increased compensations under the provisions of said act approved March 3d, 1873, and which shall have or may come into his possession by the return thereof.

SAN DOMINGO.

REPORTED OVERTHROW OF BAEZ.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. The Tribune says, from advices received in this city, generally believed by those conversant with the subject, President Baez, of San Domingo, is by this time deposed, and that a new provisional government has been established, having for its headquarters the city of San Domingo. The revolution which has assumed these formidable dimensions, began at Puerto Plata Nov. 25th, when the people arose en masse and declared the government of President Baez to be deposed, on the ground of his general violation of all constitutional rights and privileges of the people. A committee of public safety was at once established, and a revolutionary proclamation or manifesto was drawn up, printed and scattered among the people.

BAND CONCERTS. We understand that the Bangor Cornet Band is making arrangements for two grand concerts, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of new uniforms. We hope our citizens will bestow a liberal patronage, as the Band deserves. It is an organization to be proud of, as every one who has listened to its excellent music, can testify.

ASSAULT. Yesterday afternoon John Hennessy, clerk in McAloon & Thomas' saloon on Central st., pounded an old man named Wm Dwelly, severely bruising him about the head, as we learn, for a trivial offense. Hennessy was immediately arrested and taken before Judge Goodenow who postponed the examination until today, deeming the prisoner's condition unfit for a trial of the case.

STATE CATHOLIC TEMPERANCE UNION. A call appears in our columns this morning for a convention of the Catholic Temperance Societies of this State, to be held in this city Jan. 6th, for the purpose of organizing a State Union. All Catholic Temperance Societies in Maine having pastoral recognition are invited to send delegates, each being entitled to one delegate for every twenty-five members. Papers favorable to the cause will confer a favor by publishing the above.

COMPLIMENTARY. That excellent and reliable paper, the Piscataquis Observer, has our thanks for the following complimentary notice —

The Daily Whig and Courier comes to us as regularly as does our dinner. It is difficult for us to decide, sometimes, for which we have the best appetite. We are not always sure of the best in the market for our dinner, but we are always sure of the latest news and best editorial matter in the Whig. We had as lief be without our dinner as our noon daily.

NOT ON THE PROGRAMME. The enjoyment of those who attended the excellent concert at Norombega last night, was seriously impaired by an almost intolerable odor which pervaded the hall. At times it seemed like "a very ancient and fish-like smell," and again, when the pianissimo passages were interrupted by the thumping of cleavers in the market below, the perfume became dreadfully suggestive of "bones and things." For people who have noses, such an atmosphere is trying, even when vibrating to the sweetest of Beethoven's music.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. The Christmas holidays will begin to-morrow, which is the festival of St. Thomas the apostle. This feast is not generally considered one of the Christmas festivals, as it does not come into the famous twelve days. The following named festivals are generally considered the Christmas holy days: Feast of the Nativity, December 25, Feast of St. Stephen, December 26, Feast of St. John the Evangelist, December 27, Feast of Holy Innocents, December 28, Feast of the Circumcision, January 1, Feast of the Epiphany, January 6. The Episcopal churches will duly celebrate them according to the Book of Common Prayer.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT. It is to be regretted that no larger audience attended the concert given in Norombega Hall last evening by the Beethoven Quintette Club, assisted by Mrs. J. M. Osgood, but there were many things which combined to prevent a full house. The evening was stormy, and there had been a number of entertainments during the week, for one of which—the fair in aid of the Home for Aged Women—nearly every lady in the city worked very hard and experienced corresponding fatigue. "Last, but not least," as the phrase runs, these are "panicky times," yet, and it is doubtful if any entertainment could have obtained a larger attendance. But we never saw a more appreciative audience than that in Norombega last night. Certainly the Quintette can have no fault to find with the warm reception they met, for their merit was at once recognized, and with each succeeding piece the sympathy created between players and listeners by the opening number, was more firmly established.

The Quintette proper had five selections on the programme—the overture to Suppe's "Bandit's Frolic," the Scherzando and Adagio from Mendelssohn's Quintette in B flat, the Allegretto, Minuet and Trio from Beethoven's Eighth Symphony, Schuman's "Traeumerei," and a potpourri from "Lucrezia Borgia." As was remarked last night "every member of the club did his best"—there were no evidences of the carelessness and inattention which mar the playing of many of the musical organizations which have appeared here—their performance was marked with spirit and a precision which reflects credit not only upon Mr Allen, their able leader, but also upon each man. Best, to our taste, was their performance of the second selection above mentioned, which was received with a burst of applause that a less modest organization would have at once decided was an encore.

The appearance on the stage of Mrs. Osgood (we were mistaken in stating she had not appeared here before, she sang in Norombega last winter with the Highland Quartette) was the signal for an enthusiastic greeting from the audience. She was in fine voice, and deserved every bit of the hearty [illegible] which followed each of her [illegible] Donizetti's "[illegible]" [illegible] the song "I love my [illegible]" [illegible] "Angel [illegible]" [illegible] obligato by Mr Allen [illegible] recalled, [illegible] "Proposal," [illegible] by [illegible] beautiful [illegible] "[illegible] ber," Mr. Allen [illegible] [illegible] store, supp[illegible] [illegible] serenade. We [illegible] Mrs. Osgood again, and [illegible] last night will heartily [illegible].

Mr. Wulf Fries, who is an old [illegible] [illegible] receiv[illegible] [illegible] came forward to play his [illegible] from the Alp[illegible] and his [illegible] performance won for him an encore, [illegible] responded with [illegible]. Mr. Rietzel's flute [illegible] "Rigoletto" with variations, displayed marvel [illegible] execution, and [illegible] "L'Eclair," he [illegible] Mr. Mullaly, who played that [illegible] diminutive instrument, the viola, with taste and effect rarely excelled. The [illegible] for violins—Siciliano Landler, arranged by Winter—played by Messrs. Allen and Heindl, was fairly sparkling, and justified the highest encomiums.

We trust that this will be the first of a great many concerts given here by the Beethoven Quintette, and can assure them of welcome wherever they come again.

BANGOR POLICE COURT

BEFORE JUDGE GOODENOW.

Friday, Dec 19. Peter Wall, brought up on charge of stealing an overcoat from the Exchange, plead guilty to the charge, and was bound over in the sum of $1500 to appear at the February Term of the Supreme Judicial Court. He was subsequently released, the required bail being furnished by John Kane and the mother of the respondent.

Charles Evans was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness, and not having the necessaries was sent to jail.

Coal has been found in Nebraska, 25 miles north of Grand Island, at a depth of 114 feet.

Mrs. J. W. Tabor's house in Houlton was burned last Thursday, and only a portion of the contents was saved. The building and furniture were insured for $6,200 in Bangor companies.

HOLIDAY GIFTS.

WHERE TO GET THEM AND WHAT TO GET.

The holiday season draws near, and people are beginning to cast about for suitable gifts which, in compliance with a custom that has come down to us from time immemorial, it is usual at this time of the year to bestow upon relations and friends. We might discourse at length upon this delightful custom,—enjoyed alike by the giver and recipient,—but time and space forbid, and we must confine ourselves to offering a few timely suggestions to our readers which may assist them in their labor of love. First of all we come to which no "well-regulated family" can dispense with, for what would a Christmas festival be to the children without a tree on which to display the bounty of Santa Claus? We are glad to see in response to our suggestion made a few days since, a number of loads of evergreen trees have been brought to the city, and Messrs. Robbinson & Smith, corner Haymarket and Pickering squares, have them for sale.

Fir is recommended by the best authorities as most suitable for the tree, as its pliable branches are stronger and less brittle than the hemlock and more open than the spruce, the balsam under the bark seems to be the objection, but a little care will prevent this coming in contact with the clothing, and its fragrant odor is very agreeable to most people. The tree should be round and symmetrical in form, with branches of moderate length. The lower end of the trunk may be shaved down and fitted into a mortice of an auger hole in the centre of a cross of joist; or, if a more elaborate design is deemed necessary, it may be set in a tub of sand or earth, covered with moss or surrounded by drapery. The smaller branches of the tree and the tips of the larger, may be decorated with apples, oranges, gilded walnuts, and the brilliant glass balls of various colors which are to be found in the market this season. Festoons of popped corn strung on twine, look very prettily, draped among the branches, and bits and loops of party colored ribbons add much to the general effect. The lighting should be accomplished by colored tapers—which may be purchased cheaply—affixed by little strips of tin pointed at both ends. If the tree stands in a carpeted room, thick brown paper or strips of old carpeting should be laid on the carpet to prevent damage by wax dropped from the tapers.

Now, having provided the tree, the next question is,

"WHAT SHALL WE GET?"

Few persons there are who do not wish to make some presents, at least, but many are at a loss what to purchase. This important problem we shall endeavor to render easy of solution. Our merchants and dealers have, in anticipation of the demand, put in large stocks of seasonable goods, and many of them, wisely believing in letting purchasers know what they have suitable for Holiday gifts, instead of "waiting for trade to come 'round,'" make their announcements in our columns with that invaluable medium for advertisers—"printers' ink." But further than this, we propose to take our readers around on a stroll among our advertising patrons so that at the same time they may learn not only "what to get," but also

WHERE TO PURCHASE.

Premising that many of the articles to be mentioned cannot possibly be hung on any Christmas tree, though they will all make acceptable presents, we will start on our tour of observation. It is difficult to know where to commence, so many places demand attention, but as Young America calls loudest at this time and demands the first share, we will look about for

TOYS.

A glance into the Bangor Bazaar, in Union block, Main st., convinces us that the announcement of Mr. Durgin that Santa Claus has made his headquarters there, cannot be far out of the way. All sorts of toys from a tin trumpet to a gorgeously-caparisoned rocking horse, from a whistle to a Noah's ark, may here be found. Dolls of every kind—tall and short, plump and thin, in wax and in China, in rubber and in cloth—here hold their court in such numbers that children must think it a sort of fairy-land, peopled by dwarfs. Then there are play houses, furniture and dinner and tea sets to match—all in miniature. But we cannot begin to enumerate the many articles here to be found, and will only advise parents and uncles and aunts and grown up brothers and sisters and cousins, to provide themselves with full purses before visiting the Bazaar, for they will see so many things they want to buy for the youngsters that they will not be satisfied to leave without purchasing largely.

At Gen. White's store on Kenduskeag bridge, there is a collection of mechanical toys that the boys will delight in—engines, steamboats, and other vehicles which run by clock work for a long time. Then there are dolls in great variety, games, etc, for the girls, and a fine assortment of fancy sleds—just the thing for the boys to coast with.

Bugbee & Co. and Duren & Son have large stocks of games and toy books for the children.

BOOKS, ETC.

Children after they get done with toys go for books, naturally as a young duck goes for the water. Bugbee & Co. have a choice collection of [illegible]'s latest works for the young, [illegible] stock of reading for those of [illegible]. All the latest novels, the [illegible] and authors, gift and holiday [illegible] and many superb illustrated volumes [illegible] this store. Here, too, may be [illegible] writing desks, stationery, [illegible] extensive assortment of Russia [illegible] wallets, etc, thermometers [illegible], crystal and other unique [illegible] glasses, stereoscopes and [illegible] thousand other seasonable [illegible].

F. & W. [illegible] Duren's shelves and tables [illegible] packed with books, from the A B C [illegible] primer to a Doré Bible. The [illegible] a specialty of bibles and theological works and school books, and also have [illegible] of the standard authors, as [illegible] supply of lighter literature—[illegible] gift books here are worthy [illegible] inspection. Wallets, diaries, [illegible] portfolios, desks, etc, are exhibited in great variety, and the store is well worth a [illegible] inspection.

At Charles Hight's, No. 3 Smith's block, a fine assortment of holiday books is for sale. Gift and [illegible] books illustrated in the [illegible] style of art may here be found in profusion, as well as a large collection of works on every subject, "from grave to gay." Swiss carved goods, opera glasses, Russia leather goods, stereoscopes and views, albums, writing desks, games, and other articles "too numerous to mention" are here for sale.

Mr. F. B. Butler is selling at auction at 16 Main St., an assortment of standard and holiday books.

From books we naturally turn to which we find in sheet form and bound, at F. S. Davenport's, Kenduskeag block, at Patten & Wheelden's, White's block, Main St., at S. F. Cobb's, No. 5 State St., and at Durens', Hammond St.

MUSIC,

Mr. Davenport, Messrs. Patten & Wheelden, and Mr. Cobb can sell you piano-fortes and organs of all the approved makes, as well as many other kinds of musical instruments. A good piano has become a necessity in every home of refinement, and music at the joyous Christmas season is most appropriate; therefore if your house is not thus furnished, purchase at once. Mr. Cobb tunes and repairs pianos, organs and melodeons, having had long experience in the business.

As "music and art go hand in hand," we next come to than which nothing is better adapted to beautify and brighten our rooms. A good picture is indeed "a joy forever," and few presents are more appropriate at this season.

Dakin, under the Harriman House, has a very large stock of art goods. A number of large oil paintings by well known artists, to which we have before referred, are on exhibition here, and also a number of small landscapes painted by P. H. Holmes of Gardiner, especially for the Holiday season. They are beautiful little presents—good enough to present to a queen, but so cheap, that almost any one can afford to buy them. Here also are the latest and choicest chromos, fine steel engravings, a full line of stereoscopes and views, every conceivable sort of frame, artists' materials, etc. If you cannot find a frame to suit your ideas, Mr Dakin will manufacture one to order in the best style.

A fine assortment of chromos, American and foreign, may be found at Bugbee & Co's, and also stereoscopes and views. This firm also has Rogers' groups, which are so much admired. A large collection of new stereoscope views is for sale at Charles Hight's.

Parian and bronze statuettes and busts in great variety ornament the windows of Messrs J. S. Ricker & Co's store, No. 1 Main St., and one must indeed be hard to suit who could not find here something to his taste—Elegant porcelain and terra cotta vases, Bohemian and German glass goods, rich toilet and mantel ornaments, etc., in great variety may be found at their establishment.

Patten, the well known auctioneer, is selling by auction each day, at 16 Main St., a large stock of Bohemian vases, cologne sets, and fancy goods suitable for holiday presents.

JEWELRY, WATCHES AND SILVER WARE

are much in demand at this season, and the stores devoted to the sale of these goods present a very attractive appearance just now. One of the finest assortments in town may be found at Daniel White's, Kenduskeag bridge, where besides silver plated and solid ware, table cutlery, napkin rings, fruit knives etc., may be found mantel clocks in every style, watches from the best American and Swiss makers, opera glasses, pocket cutlery, and a thousand other articles of utility and beauty. Their jewelry cases are stocked with sets in Roman, Etruscan and Egyptian styles, as well as the simpler forms of ornaments, and they have a fine assortment of opera, neck and vest chains. Watch and jewelry repairing in all its branches is done here by competent workmen, and it has become a common remark when anything from an umbrella to an artificial limb, from a pipe to a steam-engine, needs repairs, "Send it to Cowan," who presides over the back shop amid a chaos of lathes and tools of every imaginable kind.

W. F. Weeks, No. 3, Smith's block, is agent for the celebrated Borel & Courvoisier watches, of which he keeps an extensive assortment, as well as those of other manufactures. His stock of chains is very large, including many varieties not found elsewhere. Of fine jewelry his cases display a large stock. Watch repairing here is under the charge of skillful workmen, who have given a lifetime to the business, and a "ticker" they cannot set running must be very "far gone." Fine clocks are also sold here, and correct time kept by transit observations.

J. G. Leonard, Jr., No 8, Smith's block, makes a specialty of watch repairing, and is very skillful. He sells Elgin, Waltham, Springfield and Swiss watches, and fine jewelry, and has a large stock of spectacles and eye glasses, and opera-glasses, mounted in every style. A great variety of clocks may also be found here.

Eben Stevens, 36 Hammond st., manufactures all sorts of jewelry, and is kept busy all the time on this work, engraving, and repairs. There is no need of sending out of town for repairs any kind of jewelry—not even the delicate Etruscan and filigree work—for he will make it look as well as new. He has made class rings, society badges and pins innumerable for parties in all parts of the State, and work entrusted to him will be faithfully done.

B. F. S. Patten, 28 Main st., keeps up with the times in watches, clocks, jewelry and silver ware, and his store presents a very attractive appearance to visitors, who will find it difficult to leave without purchasing.

——But jewelry and fine watches look out of place when worn by a lady who is not dressed in good taste and materials, and this brings us to the subject of

DRY GOODS.

The fame of our dry goods stores has spread far and wide, and purchasers flock to them from all parts of this section of the State. It would be an endless task to attempt to mention the thousand varieties of dress-goods, cloths, cloakings, shawls, trimmings, etc., which with ready made garments of every possible sort, fill the shelves, cover the counters and crowd the windows of such stores as those of R P Stone, Geo W Stevens, J F Snow, E C Nichols & Co, J T Rines & Co, Geo. L Westgate, R. G Rollins, and other firms, whose announcements in our advertising columns have told their own story.

Panic prices are the order of the day, and there has probably been no better time for purchasing dry goods for years. Go and ask the prices, and see for yourselves.

No lady is well dressed unless she wears a bonnet or hat to correspond in style with her cloak and dress, and the subject of

is thus introduced. At the stores of Dwelly & Co, L. B. Hanson, C. W. Coffin, I. W. Coombs, Mrs P. F. R Clark and others, on Main street, and the Boston Button store on Central street, may be found all the materials requisite for the construction of the most elaborate "head-gear." Velvets and ribbons and flowers and laces and feathers are to be found in profusion, ready to be put together by skillful hands, into the most bewitching hats or bonnets that ever surmounted a chignon. If unable to wait for the construction or trimming of these ornamental structures, ladies will at most of the places mentioned above, find hats and bonnets ready trimmed for immediate use, to suit all styles, ages and purses. At all these stores may also be found large assortments of the mention of which introduces an exceedingly comprehensive subject, for the term covers articles innumerable. If you don't believe it, just look into Jacob Stern & Co's establishment at 56 Main street, which is literally packed with them. Here are all kinds and shades of worsted, patterns for embroidering (is that word right?) it, slipper cases, wall pockets, and foot rests, dressing cases, crochet and lace tidies, handkerchiefs worth from ten cents to twenty dollars, gloves, mittens and gauntlets, fans of every description and material, from lace to Russia leather, belts, corsets, ribbons, laces, trimmings—we can't possibly enumerate one-quarter of the articles, but must say a word about the novel articles in Scotch wood which are attracting so much attention here.

Mrs. E. Schember, 44 Cedar street, has a fine stock of Bergmann's Berlin worsteds, embroidered slippers, slipper cases, cushions, chair stripes, etc., canvas and patterns in great variety, and a large assortment of hoods, sacks, scarfs, and infant's garments. She makes hair jewelry, and sells and repairs hair switches and curls.

——Here we are obliged to rest for to-day. On Monday we will resume and complete our tour.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CONSTITUTION. The following are the distinctive features of the new Constitution which was adopted by a large majority in Pennsylvania Tuesday.

The limitations imposed on special legislation are such as to remove one of the most prolific sources of corruption. The legislator can no longer be exposed to the temptation of putting up the rights of his constituents for sale to the highest bidder. Municipalities and corporations will no longer find themselves the subjects of unrestricted plunder, nor can they purchase exemption or undue privileges by thinly-veiled bribery. Restricted to the consideration of general laws the Assembly will become a place of honor, to a seat in which the best citizens may be expected to aspire, while the wise provisions against lobbying and hasty legislation, the increase in the number of members, and the holding of biennial sessions, will insure a more thoughtful consideration of all subjects presented for action.

While there has been honest differences of opinion on the subject of an elective judiciary, all men have united in the wish to keep the bench beyond the influence of politics. This desirable result has been accomplished to a great extent by prolonging the terms of Justices of the Supreme Court and rendering them ineligible for re election. All extra judicial functions have also been removed from the lower courts.

The fee system, which in our large cities, has been so prolific a source of oppression on the people and of corruption in elections, is abolished, and fixed salaries are substituted therefor.

Election laws are to be uniform throughout the Commonwealth, and no citizen is to be disfranchised through reason of his omission from any register of voters. Election officers are everywhere to be elected by the people, while such regulations are framed as shall conduce to the purity of elections.

The libel law is so changed that while the private citizen will, as heretofore, enjoy full protection against public slander, malfeasance in office and matters proper for public information can be exposed, if done with good motive and after proper investigation.

A Board of Pardons is created, whose proceedings are to be open and public, thus shielding us from the scandals which have so gravely affected the politics and the administration of justice of the Commonwealth.

A limitation is imposed on the creation of municipal debts, which will serve as a powerful restraint upon corrupt expenditures or reckless improvidence.

Appropriation of public money for the support of sectarian schools is forbidden, while the labors of women as teachers are recognized by rendering them eligible for positions of control.

The details of local administration are separated from general politics by providing for separate municipal elections.

A much needed restraint is imposed on improper expenditures by allowing the Governor to veto particular items in general appropriation bills, and requiring the votes of two thirds of all the members of both Houses to overcome a veto.

The funds in the State Treasury are guarded by stringent regulations against abuses.

THE LAST FLOWER OF THE SEASON

BY LUCY LARCOM.

The gentian was the last year's child,
Born when the winds were hoarse and wild
While wailing over buried flowers,
The playmates of their summer hours

The gentian hid a thoughtful eye
Beneath deep fringes blue and shy
Only by warmest moonbeams won
To meet the welcome of the sun

The gentian her long lashes through
Looked up into the sky so blue,
And felt at home—the color there
The good God gave herself to wear

The gentian searched the fields around
No flower companion here she found
Upward from all the woodland ways,
Floated the aster's silvery rays

The gentian shut her eyel ds tight
On falling leaf and frosty night,
And o'er her azure mantle drew
While dreary winds around her blew

The gentian said, "The world is cold
Yet one clear glimpse of Heaven I hold
The sun's last thought is mine to keep.
Enough—now let me go to sleep.

Prospectus for 1874,

Seventh Year.

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE while issued with all the regularity has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures the rarest specimens of artistic skill in black and white Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year While other publications may claim superior cheapness as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost and then, there are the chromos, besides

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world wide reputation and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained The common prejudice in favor of steel plates is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will at a trifling cost enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thomas Moran and J D Woodward

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season by our best artists and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars The subjects were chosen to represent The East and The West One is a view in the White Mountains New Hampshire the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact facsimiles of the originals The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr Moran himself

NEWARK N J Sept 20th 1873

Messrs JAMES SUTTON & Co

Gentlemen —I am delighted with the proofs in color of your chromos They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings

Very respectfully

(Signed) THOS MORAN

These chromos are in every sense American They are by an original American process with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send Thoughts of Home a new and beautiful chromo 14x20 inches representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longing of his heart

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free!

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent mounted varnished and prepaid by mail

THE ALDINE will hereafter be obtained only by subscription There will be no reduced or club rates cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct or handed to the local canvasser without responsibility to the publishers except in cases where the certificate is given bearing the fac simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co

Convention between the United States of America and Denmark Naturalization. Concluded July 20, 1872, Ratified January 22, 1873, Ratifications exchanged March 14, 1873, Proclaimed April 15, 1873

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a convention between the United States of America and His Majesty the King of Denmark, relative to the naturalization of citizens and subjects of the two countries, was concluded and signed at Copenhagen by their respective plenipotentiaries on the twentieth day of July, 1872, the original of which convention being in the English and Danish languages, is word for word as follows

The United States of America and His Majesty the King of Denmark being desirous to regulate the citizenship of the citizens of the United States of America who have emigrated, or who may emigrate, from the United States of America to the Kingdom of Denmark, and of Danish subjects who have emigrated, or who may emigrate, from the Kingdom of Denmark to the United States of America, have resolved to conclude a convention for that purpose and have named as their plenipotentiaries, that is to say, the President of the United States of America Michael J Cramer minister resident of the United States of America at Copenhagen, and His Majesty the King of Denmark, Otto Ditlev Baron Rosenorn-Lehn, commander of Danebrog and Danebrogsmand chamberlain, His Majesty's minister for foreign affairs, &c., &c. &c.,

Who after having communicated to each other their respective full powers found to be in good and due form, having agreed upon and concluded the following articles, to wit

ARTICLE I

Citizens of the United States of America who have become or shall become, and are, naturalized according to law, within the Kingdom of Denmark as Danish subjects, shall be held by the United States of America to be in all respects and for all purposes Danish subjects, and shall be treated as such by the United States of America

In like manner, Danish subjects who have become or shall become, and are naturalized, according to law within the United States of America as citizens thereof, shall be held by the Kingdom of Denmark to be in all respects and for all purposes as citizens of the United States of America and shall be treated as such by the Kingdom of Denmark

ARTICLE II

If any such citizen of the United States as aforesaid naturalized within the Kingdom of Denmark as a Danish subject, should renew his residence in the United States, the United States government may, on his application and on such conditions as that government may see fit to impose, readmit him to the character and privileges of a citizen of the United States, and the Danish government shall not in that case, claim him as a Danish subject on account of his former naturalization

In like manner, if any such Danish subject, as aforesaid, naturalized within the United States as a citizen thereof should renew his residence within the Kingdom of Denmark, His Majesty's government may, on his application, and on such conditions as that government may think fit to impose readmit him to the character and privileges of a Danish subject, and the United States government shall not, in that case claim him as a citizen of the United States on account of his former naturalization

ARTICLE III.

If, however, a citizen of the United States naturalized in Denmark shall renew his residence in the former country without the intent to return to that in which he was naturalized, he shall be held to have renounced his naturalization

In like manner, if a Dane, naturalized in the United States shall renew his residence in Denmark without the intent to return to the former country, he shall be held to have renounced his naturalization in the United States

The intent not to return may be held to exist when a person naturalized in the one country shall reside more than two years in the other country

ARTICLE IV.

The present convention shall go into effect immediately on or after the exchange of the ratifications, and shall continue in force for ten years If neither party shall have given to the other six months previous notice of its intention then to terminate the same it shall further remain in force until the end of twelve months after either of the contracting parties shall have given notice to the other of such intention

ARTICLE V

The present convention shall be ratified by the President of the United States of America by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by His Majesty the King of Denmark and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Copenhagen as soon as may be, within eight months from this date hereof

In witness whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their respective seals,

Done at Copenhagen the twentieth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two

MICHAEL J CRAMER
O D ROSENORN LEHN

And whereas the said convention has been duly ratified on both parts, and the respective ratifications were exchanged at Copenhagen, on the 14th day of March, 1873, by Michael J Cramer minister resident of the United States of America at Copenhagen, and Otto Ditlev Rosenorn Lehn Commander of Danebrog and Danebrogsmand, chamberlain, His Majesty's minister for foreign affairs & &c, &c, on the part of their respective governments

Now therefore be it known that I, Ulysses S Grant, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public to the end that the same and every clause and article thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed Done at the city of Washington this fifteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy three and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-seventh.

TREATY

Agreement between the United States and Spain for the Settlement of certain Claims of Citizens of the United States, made by Daniel E Sickles Esq Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at Madrid, and His Excellency Senor Don Cristino Martos Minister of State of Spain Concluded February 12, 1871

Memorandum of an arbitration for the settlement of the claims of citizens of the United States or of their heirs, against the government of Spain for wrongs and injuries committed against their persons and property, or against the persons and property of citizens of whom the said heirs are the legal representatives by the authorities of Spain in the island of Cuba, or within the maritime jurisdiction thereof since the commencement of the present insurrection

1 It is agreed that all such claims shall be submitted to arbitrators one to be appointed by the Secretary of State of the United States another by the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Spain at Washington, and these two to name an umpire who shall decide all questions upon which they shall not be able to agree and in case the place of either arbitrator or of the umpire shall from any cause become vacant, such vacancy shall be filled forthwith in the manner herein provided for the original appointment

2 The arbitrators and umpire so named shall meet at Washington within one month from the date of their appointment and shall before proceeding to business, make and subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially hear and determine, to the best of their judgment and according to public law and the treaties in force between the two countries and these present stipulations all such claims as shall in conformity with this agreement, be laid before them on the part of the government of the United States and such declaration shall be entered upon the record of their proceedings

3 Each government may name an advocate to appear before the arbitrators or the umpire to represent the interests of parties respectively

4 The arbitrators shall have full power, subject to these stipulations and it shall be their duty before proceeding with the hearing and decision of any case to make and publish convenient rules prescribing the time and manner of the presentation of claims and of the proof thereof, and any disagreement with reference to the said rules of proceeding shall be decided by the umpire It is understood that a reasonable period shall be allowed for the presentation of the proofs, that all claims, and the testimony in favor of them shall be presented only through the government of the United States that the award made in each case shall be in writing, and if indemnity be given, the sum to be paid shall be expressed in the gold coin of the United States

5 The arbitrators shall have jurisdiction of all claims presented to them by the government of the United States for injuries done to citizens of the United States by the authorities of Spain in Cuba, since the first day of October, 1868 Adjudications of the tribunals in Cuba concerning citizens of the United States, made in the absence of the parties interested, or in violation of international law or of the guarantees and forms provided for in the treaty of October 27, 1795, between the United States and Spain, may be reviewed by the arbitrators, who shall make such award in any such case as they shall deem just. No judgment of a Spanish tribunal, disallowing the affirmation of a party that he is a citizen of the United States, shall prevent the arbitrators from hearing a reclamation presented in behalf of said party by the United States Government, nevertheless, in any case heard by the arbitrators, the Spanish Government may traverse the allegation of American citizenship, and thereupon competent and sufficient proof thereof will be required The commission having recognized the quality of American citizens in the claimants they will acquire the rights accorded to them by the present stipulations as such citizens. And it is further agreed that the arbitrators shall not have jurisdiction of any reclamation made in behalf of a native born Spanish subject, naturalized in the United States, if it shall appear that the same subject matter having been adjudicated by a competent tribunal in Cuba, and the claimant, having appeared therein, either in person or by his duly appointed attorney, and being required by the laws of Spain to make a declaration of his nationality, failed to declare that he was a citizen of the United States, in such case, and for the purposes of this arbitration, it shall be deemed and taken that the claimant by his own default, had renounced his allegiance to the United States. And it is further agreed that the arbitrators shall not have jurisdiction of any demands growing out of contracts.

6 The expenses of the arbitration will be defrayed by a percentage to be added to the amount awarded The compensation of the arbitrators and umpire shall not exceed three thousand dollars each, the same allowance shall be made to each of the two advocates representing respectively the two governments, and the arbitrators may employ a secretary at a compensation not exceeding five dollars a day for every day actually and necessarily given to the business of the arbitration,

7 The two governments [illegible] the awards made in the several cases submitted to the said arbitration as final and conclusive, and will give full effect to the same in good faith and as soon as possible.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES of agreement between the Post-Office Departments of the United States of America and of the dominion of Canada, establishing an exchange of Postal Cards between the two countries.

ARTICLE 1.

For the purposes of providing additional facilities of mail communication between the United States and Canada, it is hereby mutually agreed that United States postal cards mailed at any post-office in the United States and addressed to Canada; and Canadian postal cards mailed at any post-office in Canada and addressed to the United States, when prepaid an additional postage of one cent, by affixing thereto an ordinary one-cent postage-stamp of the country of origin, in addition to the stamp printed or impressed on the card, shall be reciprocally forwarded and delivered in the country of destination free of charge. Postal cards not so prepaid will not be forwarded in the mails between the two countries.

ARTICLE 2.

The regulations and instructions governing the use and treatment of postal cards in the domestic mails of the United States and of Canada, respectively, shall apply equally to the postal cards mailed in either country and addressed to the other country.

ARTICLE 3

Each country will retain to its own use the postage it collects, at the prescribed rate on postal cards forwarded to the other country

ARTICLE 4

The present articles shall be considered additional to those agreed upon between the two offices on the 25th of March, A. D. 1851, and on the 25th and 28th of August, 1859, and shall come into operation on the 1st day of July, A D 1873

In witness whereof the Postmaster-General of the United States of America, and the Postmaster General of the Dominion of Canada, have hereto set their hands and affixed their seals, at the dates set opposite to each respectively.

SECOND ADDITIONAL CONVENTION to the Postal Convention of August 21, 1867 between the United States of America and Belgium

The General Post-Office of the United States and the Postal Administration of Belgium having recognized the propriety of reducing the rates of postage fixed by the convention of 21st August, 1867 and by the additional convention of 18 March 1870, the undersigned duly authorized by their respective governments have agreed upon the following articles

ARTICLE 1

The international single rate upon letters exchanged in closed mails, via Great Britain, between Belgium and the United States is fixed as follows

1 At 10 centimes for prepaid letters originating in Belgium

2 At 6 cents for prepaid letters originating in the United States.

ARTICLE 2

The international single rate for prepaid letters sent by the direct steamer lines to be established between the two countries in conformity with article six of the convention of 21st August, 1867, is fixed at 30 centimes for letters sent from Belgium, and at 6 cents for letters sent from the United States of which 10 centimes (2 cents) shall represent the sea postage

ARTICLE 3

When one of the two contracting offices shall consider it advisable to exchange closed mails with a foreign country to which those offices may respectively serve as intermediaries by the direct packets which the other contracting office shall have established between Belgium and the United States it shall pay to the other office, for the maritime transportation of said mails between Belgium ports and those of the United States, a fixed fee of

1 Three cents (15 centimes) per 30 grams for letters

2 Ten cents (50 centimes) per kilogram for other correspondence

And the same rates of sea postage are also fixed for the closed mails conveyed by any line of direct mail steamers between the two countries

ARTICLE 4

The present convention shall be considered as additional to those of August 21 1867 and March 1, 1870 and shall take effect from the date agreed upon by the two administrations

CONVENTION between the United States of America and the Orange Free State Friendship, Commerce and Extradition Concluded December 22, 1871 Ratification advised by Senate April 24, 1872. Ratified by President April 27, 1872 Ratified by Volksraad of Orange Free State May 10, 1872. Ratifications exchanged at Washington August 18, 1873 Proclaimed August 23, 1873.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas a general convention of friendship, commerce and extradition between the United States of America and the Orange Free State was concluded and signed by their respective plenipotentiaries at Bloemfontein, on the twenty second day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, which general convention is word for word as follows

GENERAL CONVENTION OF FRIENDSHIP COMMERCE AND EXTRADITION BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE ORANGE FREE STATE.

The United States of America and the Orange Free State equally animated by the desire to draw more closely the bonds of friendship which so happily exist between the two republics, as well as to augment, by all the means at their disposal, the commercial intercourse of their respective citizens, have mutually resolved to conclude a general convention of friendship, commerce and extradition.

For this purpose they have appointed as their plenipotentiaries, to wit: The President of the United States, Willard W Edgcomb, special agent of the United States, and their consul at the Cape of Good Hope, and the president of the Orange Free State, Friedrich Kaufmann Hohne, gov. secty, who, after a communication of their respective full powers, have agreed to the following articles.

ARTICLE 1.

The citizens of the United States of America and the citizens of the Orange Free State shall be admitted and treated upon a footing of reciprocal equality in the two countries, where such admission and treatment shall not conflict with the constitutional or legal provisions of the contracting parties. No pecuniary or other more burdensome condition shall be imposed upon them than upon the citizens of the country where they reside, nor any condition whatever to which the latter shall not be subject.

The foregoing privileges, however, shall not extend to the enjoyment of political rights.

ARTICLE 2.

The citizens of one of the two countries residing or established in the other shall be free from personal military service; but they shall be liable to the pecuniary or other contributions which may be required, by way of compensation, from citizens of the country where they reside, who are exempt from the said service.

No higher impost, under whatever name shall be exacted from the citizens of one of the two countries residing or established in the other than shall be levied upon citizens of the country in which they reside, nor any contribution whatever to which the latter shall not be liable

In case of war or of the seizure or occupation of property for public purposes the citizens of one of the two countries residing or established in the other shall be placed upon an equal footing with the citizens of the country in which they reside with respect to indemnities for damages they may have sustained

The citizens of each one of the contracting parties shall have power to dispose of their personal property within the jurisdiction of the other, by sale, testament, donation, or in any other manner, and their heirs, whether by testament or ab intestato, or their successors, being citizens of the other party, shall succeed to the said property or inherit it, and they may take possession thereof either by themselves or by others acting for them, they may dispose of the same as they may think proper, paying no other charges than those to which the inhabitants of the country wherein the said property is situated shall be liable to pay in a similar case In the absence of such heir, heirs, or other successors, the same care shall be taken by the authorities for the preservation of the property that would be taken for the preservation of the property of a native of the same country, until the lawful proprietor shall have had time to take measures for possessing himself of the same.

ARTICLE 11.

This convention shall be submitted on both sides to the approval and ratification of the respective competent authorities, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington as soon as circumstances shall admit. In faith whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the above articles, and have thereunto affixed their seals.

Two years ago last September I took a very bad cold [illegible] a severe cough dry and very painful I used [illegible] kinds of syrup recommended by friends and nothing did any good [illegible] prescribed Whiskey and the [illegible] I took three quarts of them and not being relieved I commenced taking Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup of which I took several bottles [illegible] Cure four bottles, and [illegible] other remedies [illegible] growing worse, taking [illegible] about giving up all hope I [illegible] was talked of by my family, and about every [illegible] that I met as sure to die

But a change took place One day [illegible] a circular was thrown in my [illegible] Adamson's Botanic Balsam, thank God I [illegible] that circular very carefully and on [illegible] went for it [illegible] and took [illegible] regularly and as per directions Before I had [illegible] half a bottle I noticed a change I then procured six bottles and meaning business went through four of them, continually growing better, resting all night, cough nearly gone and I can now do as much business in one hour as I could in one in eight months ago I am also gaining in flesh and consequently picking feel good all over. This all comes by use of Adamson's Balsam

I invariably recommend it to everybody I see that is afflicted I can this day give you the name and residence of at least fifty persons who have been cured of bad colds by its use I have urged a friend of mine who is so bad that [illegible] this article to his stock [illegible] bottles in less than a fortnight [illegible] of any one yet heard of [illegible]

I would soon think of leaving my [illegible] against [illegible] as to keep house without a [illegible] of Adamson's Balsam [illegible]

With assurance of my highest regard I am gratefully yours &c LEROY COOK

CONSUMPTION.

It is estimated that nearly 175 000 die annually with this terrible disease Consumption in its confirmed and incipient stages Coughs Asthma and affections of the Throat Chest and Lungs Croup &c, form by far the most fatal class of disease known in our land

Yet even these may be effectually cured by means of the simple, yet wonderful remedy that nature has furnished

We have carefully combined the medical properties of these natural healing extracts of
